Significance Statement:

This building was apparently built c. 1965. It stands on a site formerly occupied by a two-story brick house, probably built in the 1910s, which served as a dwelling in 1920, a rooming house in 1929, and by 1941 a fraternity house. The Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity was located here in the 1950s (Sanborn 1913, 1920, 1929, 1941; O'Dell 1983; Kummer 1980). It does not contribute to the historic district, but is sited unobtrusively on a site with landscape screening; further, although a fairly utilitarian, low-budget design, the building is an example of a significant architectural style coming into its own with the passage of time.
