Additional Property Information

Architecture Setting: Urban

Acreage: No Data

Site Description:

January 2020: This one-story house sits on the south side of Latrobe Court, also known as Martin Court and Garden Court (Sanborn Map Company 1950). There is a curved concrete walkway to the front of this house. There are large trees along the rear property line, and this house is connected to the adjacent houses by a wood picket fence on both sides. This property consists of a house.

Surveyor Assessment:

January 2020: According to Charlottesville City Property Records, this house was built in 1940 (City of Charlottesville GIS Viewer 2020). This is supported by the Sanborn Maps, since the house does not appear on the 1929 map, but it does appear on the 1950 map (Sanborn Map Company 1929; Sanborn Map Company 1950). The field to the rear of this house is now used as a sports field by the nearby Hope Foundation and Lugo McGuiness Academy off of 11th Street NW (USGS 2017).

This property retains good integrity of location and setting. The good integrity of design, materials, and workmanship has been mildly compromised by replacement windows and enclosure of the rear porch. This property retains excellent integrity of feeling and association. Overall, this property retains good integrity.

This property is recommended as not individually eligible for listing in the NRHP due to a lack of historical significance. However, it is located in the potential 10th & Page Historic District, which is recommended as potentially eligible for listing in the NRHP. Further study is recommended to determine if the 10th & Page Historic District is eligible for listing in the NRHP under Criterion A in the areas of Ethnic Heritage, Community Planning and Development, and Social History, and under Criterion C in the area of Architecture. This property includes one contributing primary resource.

Architectural Description:

January 2020: This one-story house rests on a concrete foundation, is clad in parged concrete, and has a side-gabled roof covered in standing seam metal. There is a stuccoed interior chimney in the center of the ridgeline. The northeast (front) facing façade features a partial-width, open porch with turned wood columns and wood railings. It is accessed by a concrete step. The roof of this porch is a shed roof extension of the overall house roof. The main entrance is in the middle of this facade. The southwest (rear) facing elevation features a one-story wing with a shed roof extension of the house. Originally, there was an open porch on the southeast side of the wing. It has since been enclosed and is clad in vinyl siding. Most windows have fixed wood shutters. Visible fenestration includes a single-leaf, wood door with nine lights; and one-over-one, double-hung, metal windows, some with metal screens or storm windows.
